4. Open the PCRS 2027 Scholarship Application

After logging in, you will be taken to your member home page. Select PCRS 2027 Scholarship Application to begin.

PCRS 2027 Scholarship Application and introductory information

The application explains that scholarships are intended to encourage participation in the PCRS Annual Meeting by medical professionals in training and those currently serving in the military. Awards may include airfare, registration fees, a transportation allowance, and a sleeping room based on double occupancy. Funds are limited and full scholarships are not guaranteed.

5. Select the scholarship type for which you are eligible

Review the scholarship eligibility requirements before selecting the scholarship type that applies to you. The application includes options for eligible groups such as presenting authors and Allied Health Professionals.

Tip: If you are unsure which scholarship category applies to you, review the Types & Eligibility information on the PCRS scholarship page before completing the application.

6. Write your personal statement

Provide a brief personal statement explaining why you should be awarded a scholarship to attend the PCRS 2027 Annual Meeting.

Personal statement section

Character limit: The application states a limit of 500 characters. Keep your statement concise and focused on your need for the scholarship and the value of attending PCRS.

7. Confirm your attendance and scholarship terms

Read and acknowledge both required statements.

- Attendance Note: Confirm that, if awarded, you will attend the full schedule of the event. Fellows are also required to attend Fellows Day.
- Transportation and Accommodation Note: Acknowledge that an award may include airfare, registration fees, a transportation allowance, and a sleeping room based on double occupancy. PCRS may assign scholarship recipients to specific hotels.

Personal Statement * 500 words left

Provide a brief personal statement as to why you should be awarded a scholarship for the PCRS 2027 Annual Meeting (limit: 500 characters).

Attendance Note *

☐ This application is submitted with the full understanding that, if awarded the scholarship, I will attend for the full schedule of the event starting on Wednesday, March 18 - Sunday, March 22. (Fellows are also required to attend Fellows Day on Wednesday, March 18). Failure to allow the appropriate time for travel and attendance of the event may jeopardize future applications from others from my company/institution unless cleared prior by the PCRS office.

Transportation and Accommodation Note *

☐ I understand the scholarship award may include airfare, registration fees, a transportation allowance and a sleeping room based on double occupancy (a same gender roommate will be selected by PCRS). PCRS reserves the right to assign scholarship winners to specific hotels at our discretion.

9. Provide your travel information

Enter the location you will be traveling from and indicate whether you will require air travel. This information helps PCRS determine the appropriate travel support if you are awarded a scholarship.

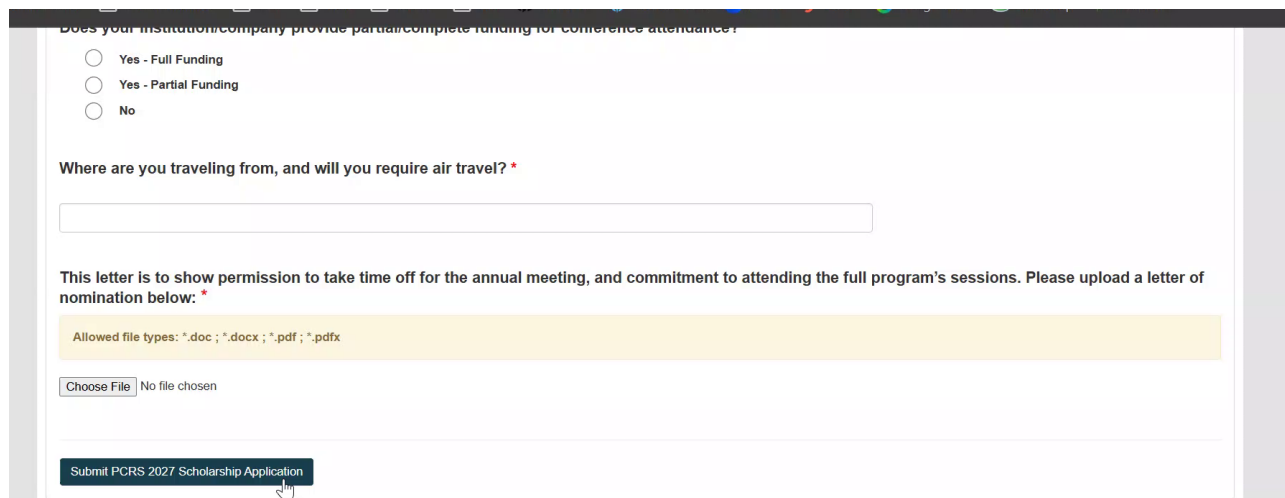

The screenshot shows a web form for the PCRS 2027 Scholarship Application. At the top, there is a question: "Does your institution/company provide partial/complete funding for conference attendance?" with three radio button options: "Yes - Full Funding", "Yes - Partial Funding", and "No". Below this is a text input field labeled "Where are you traveling from, and will you require air travel? *". Underneath the text field is a message: "This letter is to show permission to take time off for the annual meeting, and commitment to attending the full program's sessions. Please upload a letter of nomination below: *". Below this message is a yellow box stating "Allowed file types: *.doc ; *.docx ; *.pdf ; *.pdfx". Below the yellow box is a file upload section with a "Choose File" button and the text "No file chosen". At the bottom of the form is a dark blue button labeled "Submit PCRS 2027 Scholarship Application". A mouse cursor is pointing at the button.
