SPECIAL EVENTS - PRELIMINARY SCHEDULE

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25

Students' Day

A dynamic day geared toward the reproductive professional in training for fellows, residents, and medical students.

THURSDAY, MARCH 26

PCRS Welcome Reception

All registered attendees, guests, and members of industry are invited to join this festive event, held on the Rose Lawn.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27

Poster Session/Reception

An evening reception featuring the presentation of selected outstanding scientific posters. Held in the exhibit hall, all registered attendees, guests, and members of industry are welcome.

Fellows' Beer Banquet

Fellows, residents, medical students, and allied healthcare professionals in training are invited to participate in a casual evening in the Stir room. Many faculty members will be on hand to answer questions and mingle. Beer, wine, and dessert will be served.

SATURDAY, MARCH 28

Poolside R&R (Family-Friendly!)

Don't miss the perfect chance to unwind poolside with a refreshing beverage in hand while you network and get to know colleagues.

AWARDS DINNER

Dance the night away! A cocktail hour with a live band precedes a casual dinner where winners of the 2020 PCRS Awards will be honored.

SUNDAY MARCH 29

Farewell Brunch

ABOUT PCRS

Where Cutting Edge Information Blends with Intimate Collegiality

PCRS is a nonprofit medical specialty society providing avenues of Continuing Education, including accredited CME, to enhance the performance of physicians and team members and the well-being of patients. The Society offers the highest quality education, designed and presented by the top names in our field. The PCRS Annual Meeting allows you personal access to these thought leaders and creates a community where members share and exchange information to advance ideologies of our profession and build long-term professional and personal relationships.
